

Winter Carnival weekend was a time of fun for all

Bed racers cross the finish line

Cold temperatures, clear skies and a full slate of events spelled a busy weekend for those who came to this year's Haliburton Rotary Winter Carnival

With near perfect weather conditions and a variety of activities throughout the weekend, Haliburton's 11th annual Rotary Winter Carnival came off almost without a hitch.

Activities got underway Friday with the judging of the snow sculptures and the merchant displays.

Students at Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School had spent days working on their sculptures at recess and lunch time, and the effort paid off, as first prize went to the Grade 4B class of Ray Johnson for their lion. Second prize went to the students of Victoria Street School for their effort, "The Queen of the Snow and her Castle". Third place went to students in the grade 7D class at HSES for their polar bear.

Winner of the merchant window award of $25 was Varty's Jewellers.

At 6 p.m. the first rinks took to the ice at the Haliburton Curling Club for the annual Hiram Walker Mixed bonspiel. High three game winners were the rink of Tom Vine, Maxine Vine, May Collins and Bruce Collins, all of Bancroft. High two game winner was the Haliburton rink of Steve Collier, Suzanne Denman, Jean Collier and Grant Wallace. High one game winner was the Whitby rink of Morley Nicholson, Betty Hollinger, Joan Nicholson and Cec Hollinger.

Activities switched to the Dystart arena at 7 p.m. as members of the Haliburton Figure Skating Club performed in a revue entitled "Grease". The show featured some pleasing skating, and it drew repeated applause from an appreciative audience.

Approximately 20 snowmobilers made the ride down from Skyline Park in the torchlight parade, and they were greeted at the arena grounds by a large crowd, who also enjoyed the bonfire sponsored by the Haliburton Fire Department.

The outdoor activities were followed by the Toquepic Kickoff dance at the arena auditorium, and by the teen dance at the high school, where the highlight was the crowning of the carnival queen.

This year's winner was Marilyn Kinsman, who along with princesses Nicky Kinsman and Laura Letourneau, presided over the rest of the weekend's activities.

Saturday's events began with the Trappers breakfast, an event that is always popular with early risers.

At nine a.m. the first teams took to the ice in the Chalkdusters hockey tournament, which was eventually won by Burlington.

Oval snowmobile racing drew the biggest crowd

University of Toronto team to study the acidification of 20 Haliburton County lakes

The Ontario Ministry of the Environment has awarded a $186,000 contract to the University of Toronto to monitor fish in 20 lakes in the Haliburton area which are stressed by acid rain.

Dr. Harold Harvey, professor of zoology at Toronto's Ramsey Wright zoological laboratory, one of Canada's leading fish biologists, will head the University research team.

Funding for the study will come from Provincial Lottery revenues. A further $42,000 will be used to finance research underway at the Canada Centre for Inland Waters in Burlington, where scientists will study the suspected link between acid precipitation and the intake of mercury by fish using special lake simulators.

The Haliburton area study is an extension of research conducted by the Ministry of the Environment since 1976 in co-operation with the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Dr. Peter Dillon, head of the Ministry's Limnology

(lake studies) division in Toronto, said in an interview Tuesday that field work will begin in the Haliburton area in April, and will continue through April of 1981.

The research team, which is expected to number 11, will consist of graduate students, technicians, and scientists, who will remain in Haliburton County throughout the spring and summer.

The study will examine the fish populations in various lakes throughout the county, gathering data on the numbers and types of fish present.

As well, the research team is expected to concentrate intensive study on at least three lakes this year, and a further three lakes next year. The study will involve taking a complete census of the fish population, identifying the numbers of various species, their size and age, monitoring growth rate, blood chemistry, reproductive rates, success of spawning, and the build-up of toxicity in each species, Dr. Dillon said.

Acidification of lakes, which occurs when rain falls through air polluted with sulphur dioxide, has been plaguing many parts of Ontario for a number of years, but its effects are thought to be particularly acute in Canadian shield lakes, such as those in Haliburton County.

As acid levels build up in lakes which have little natural buffering ability, reproductive capacities of fish are thought to be effected, and there is evidence that heavy metals such as mercury, also build up in fish living in increasingly acidified lakes.

While the problem has not yet reached critical levels, there have been fears that lakes could begin to die within the next few years unless tough environmental laws are implemented to reduce the levels of industrial and motor vehicle pollution both in Canada and the north eastern United States.

The Haliburton area study should indicate "if current inputs of acid are actually having an effect on the fish population," Dr. Dillon said. "We don't know yet if reproduction is effected," he said.

If fish are already experiencing the effects of rising acid levels, the study should also tell scientists if those effects are showing up, in fish eggs, blood chemistry of various species, or through the death of fry.

Armed with the data, efforts can then be made to find ways of combatting the effects of the acid on fish, although Dr. Dillon admitted Tuesday that the only long term solution is abatement legislation.

The team will examine the effects of acidified snow melt in the spring with a view to discovering the best time for stocking efforts in lakes where fish populations may be declining.

They will also be seeking information on the "direct toxicity to fish of heavy

Feasibility of new Minden curling club will be examined

The Minden curling club will send letters to three consulting firms asking for quotations on a feasibility study for the proposed new curling club facility in Minden.

The study is required under government regulations before Wintario funding can be made available for the project.

Plans are currently underway for a library museum complex for the village that would also require Wintario funding for completion. J. O. Jackson, spokesman for the Minden Curling Club, said Tuesday that the feasibility study should determine if the community can raise the approximately $200,000 in public funding that would be needed to complete both projects.

Wintario funding will meet 50 percent of the estimated one to two thousand dollar cost of the study. It is expected that the study can be completed within five weeks, Jackson said.

The present Minden Curling Club building, which was built in 1961, does not meet Ministry of Labour safety regulations, and has been kept open this winter through careful monitoring of snow loads. It cannot be used next season however, unless extensive repairs are completed at an estimated cost of between $60,000 and $70,000.

Jackson said Tuesday that the club envisions a new facility at a cost of approximately $275,000, of which Wintario would pay two for one. With volunteer labour and the use of funds already raised by the club, total public debt for the new facility would be in the $50,000 to $60,000 range. If the cost of a new building were kept below $275,000, the public debt could be reduced, Jackson said.

Once the feasibility study has been completed, the matter will be brought before Anson, Minden and Minden council before any decisions on whether or not to proceed with the project are made.

Echo staff win awards for photos

The contest is open to weekly newspapers across Ontario, and is awarded monthly, with a grand prize winner elected from among the monthly winners.

Joe Bank's photo of Kenosis Lake which appeared in a September issue of the Echo was the winner for that month.

Dave Robb's picture of ice on Birch Narrows in November was also judged the best photograph of the month among Ontario weeklies in the Ministry contest.

Accidents result in charges

A Haliburton man has been charged with impaired driving, and with failing to use proper care and control as a result of a two car crash on highway 121 last Wednesday.

Robert William Pincombe, 56, of Haliburton was charged after his eastbound car veered into the westbound lane and sideswiped a car driven by Hubert Francis Alton, 63, of Minden.

Police say Pincombe apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

Damage to Alton's car was estimated at $800. Damage to Pincombe's car was also estimated at $800.

A Kinmount woman was charged with failing to yield the right of way after the car she was driving was struck by another last Thursday.

Police say Judy L. Precor, 24, of Kinmount was charged after her car entered highway 519 from a private driveway and was struck by a car driven by Kenneth Gardiner, 50, of Kinmount, who was northbound at the time of the mishap.

Damage was estimated at $400 to each vehicle.

A collision between a car and two snowmobiles resulted in a charge of failing to share half the roadway being laid against a Berkeley man. Minden OPP say Delbert J. Hill, 35, of Berkeley was westbound on the Redkenn Road in Havelock Township last Monday when he applied the brakes and slid across the road into the eastbound lane. Hill's car collided with two snowmobiles driven by Ernest G. Jordan, 34 of Cameron, Cont'd. page 2

People who stare at the partial solar eclipse visible in this area Monday, February 26, will risk permanent eye damage, the Medical Officer of Health has warned.

Dr. D. E. Mickel, MOH for the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District said this week that "there is no adequate protection for direct vision of this phenomenon against the dangerous ultraviolet and infrared solar radiation. This includes the observation during the moment or two of maximum eclipse."

"Sun glasses, smoke glass, pin hole peep holes and exposed photographic film do not give adequate protection," he said, adding that "the only safe way to view this rare and interesting phenomenon is on television".

An eclipse occurs when the moon passes in front of the sun, blocking it from view in a process that can take a number of hours to complete. The eclipse will be visible in this area from 10:52 a.m. until 1:29 p.m. with maximum coverage, when the moon will hide approximately 75 percent of the sun's surface, at 12:09 p.m.

Staring at the eclipse can mean permanent damage to your eyes

It will be the last time an eclipse will be visible in this part of the world until August 21, 1977. Anyone who stares at the eclipse risks burning the retina of the eye. The burn is painless, can occur in a matter of seconds, and is irreversible. It can result in loss of vision in the centre of the eye's viewing area.

Danger from the eclipse occurs because the reduced area of the sun makes it possible to look at the rays without the eye's natural defenses taking over. But even with 97 percent of the sun's surface covered, the remaining three percent can cause permanent damage to unprotected eyes, according to a release from the Canadian Optometrists Association.

Because of the danger, the Haliburton County Board of Education is making special provisions to have students remain inside the schools for the duration of the eclipse if the sky is clear.

If the sun is not visible because of overcast conditions, students will be permitted to leave the schools as usual over the noon hour.

Rotarian Dale Robinson crowns Marilyn Kinsman, Queen of the 1979 Haliburton Rotary Winter Carnival. Miss Kinsman was crowned at a dance held Friday night at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Her princesses were Nicky Kinsman and Laura Letourneau.

If you think the ice on Head Lake isn't solid just ask Walter Webb. When his water system gave up the ghost this week, Mr. Webb had to saw through almost 3 feet of solid ice to repair the foot valve located about 200 ft. from shore. These things always seem to go wrong at the most opportune times!

metals, and the pathway by which they get into the fish," Dr. Dillon said.
The Ministry chose the Haliburton area for the study because background information has already been gathered over the past two years, and because the area has been effected by acid rain "due to its high susceptibility," Dr. Dillon said.

Damage to Hill's car was estimated at $300. Damage to Jordan's '78 snowmobile was estimated at $500, while police estimated $200 damage to Sullivan's snowmobile.
A Wilberforce man was also charged with failing to share half of the roadway following a collision between a car and a truck in Monmouth Township road Saturday.

Charged was Harold L. Floden, 58, of Wilberforce.
Minden OPP say Floden was northbound and approaching the junction of Earles Road when his car veered into the southbound lane and collided with a truck driven by Beryl B. Rutter, 33, of Wilberforce.

Damage to Floden's car was estimated at $1,000. Damage to Rutter's truck was estimated at $600.
High snowbanks that cut visibility are blamed for an accident between a car and a truck in Snowdon Township Friday.

Police say Joseph H. Hancock, 53 of Irondale was eastbound on Snowdon Township Road when his car collided with a westbound car driven by Ralph Callahan, 38, of Keswick.
Police say the cars met in the centre of the road, and that high snowbanks are blamed for blocking the driver's view.

Damage to Hancock's car was estimated at $400. Damage to the Callahan vehicle was estimated at $500.

OPP report

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police report the following activity for the week of February 13-19.

During this period there were ten reportable and three non reportable motor vehicle accidents.

A total of 35 general offences were reported. There were two break-ins, six cottages were found insecure, two persons were charged with snowmobile violations, one person was charged under the Liquor Licence Act, and one person was charged with impaired driving.

Police say the cars met in the centre of the road, and

Minden Curling Club, pioneer museum project to be examined

Council supports feasibility studies

Anson, Hindon and Minden council, at a meeting last Wednesday, gave verbal support to the efforts now underway to secure a library museum complex and a new curling club for the village.

J. O. Jackson and Alex Miller of the Minden Curling Club, and Stan Blears of the library-museum committee, attended council to discuss the feasibility studies that must be undertaken for both projects, before Wintario funding can be approved.

The studies are expected to be completed within five weeks.

In other business, council decided to allow the Township of Stanhope to conduct a swimming program on Little Boskung Lake in 1979 provided Anson, Hindon and Minden ratepayers are permitted to participate.

Bob Liscombe of O.W.L. & P. attended council to outline the reasons for the fluctuating level of the Gull River through the village on week-ends.

Council agreed to allow Alex Hall to gross municipal property in part of Lot 13, Concession A, Township of Anson for the purpose of a private water line providing permission is also received from other abutting land owner(s) subject to the direction and supervision of the municipality.

Terry Southern was present requesting approval to locate a mobile canteen on his lot, presently zoned 'GCA'. The clerk and bylaw officer were directed to review the various bylaws and contact the Health Unit for requirements.

The membership fee in the amount of $20.00 for 1979 will be remitted to the Provincial (Ontario) Association of Committees of Adjustment and Land Division Committees.

Dave Stamp attended council to discuss the 66' marine allowance fronting Lot 1, Concession 4, Hindon Township, and to request it be closed. The clerk was directed to investigate the preparation of a bylaw to close a portion of such allowance to vehicular traffic only.

Council concurred with the application made by Jeanette Payne, for a minor variance in part of Lot 1, Concession A, Township of Anson.

Wm. Dolman, representing the firm Municipal Planning Consultants, attended to introduce himself and his company's services to members of council.

Council approved the draft plan of subdivision by John Burns in part of Lot 10, Concession A, Township of Anson for residential development.

Council supported the erection of speed limit signs in the channel between Horseshoe and Mountain Lakes restricting the speed to 6 m.p.h. (10 k.p.h.) pursuant to a request made by the Horseshoe Lake Property Owner's Association and the municipality's approved policy #29.

Members of council reviewed the taxi bylaw and advised the clerk to include several amendments when preparing the draft for consideration.

Severance application No. H275/78 revised (79) was approved subject to the storage building being relocated to comply with the setbacks of bylaw 1467, as amended. Also, council must approve any changes in use or expansion to the building on the parcel of land retained begin used as a health foods store. Council reviewed the agreement relating to the draft plan of subdivision proposed by Elmar Hodsoll.

It was resolved that upon completion of a training course in which Brian Sisson, arena manager is enrolling, council agrees that Sisson will be reinstated as a municipal employee to manage the Minden Community Centre.

A letter from Hugh Kirkland was read to council regarding the costs to paint signs for named township roads. The clerk was directed to advise Mr. Kirkland of the number of signs required to be painted and to establish a completion date.

Pursuant to a request from Erwin Wingat, council agreed to erect a 'dead end' sign and arrange for a fingerboard sign to be painted noting Hillside Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crawford were present to discuss the status of the road dispute in front of Hart Lodge.

Bylaw 79-11 being a bylaw to close a portion of Taylor Road in front of Hart Lodge to the dam bridge to vehicular traffic, was passed.

The municipality agreed to withdraw the case before the courts regarding the Earl and Eileen Crawford road dispute providing each absorbs its own legal costs incurred to date. The municipality will also accept title to the section of new road referred to as the "upper road" which has been granted to the municipality from the Crawfords in exchange for the municipality closing that portion of Taylor Road to vehicular traffic referred to in bylaw 79-11.

P.W.D. accounts for the month of January were approved for payment in the amount of $22,930.17.

The following accounts be approved for payment: General - $27,418.89; Sewage - $171.63; and Water - $505.89.

Racers in the 100 km, Echo Cup cross country snowmobile race left the arena grounds at noon, and just 111 minutes later, Steve Brand of Barrie crossed the finish line on Head Lake for the victory. In second spot overall was O.J. Mathison, while defending champion John Coneybeare of Haliburton finished in third spot.

The Kinsman sponsored solo racing for cars and trucks also proved to be a popular attraction, and drew entries in four classes of light and heavy four wheel drive and two wheel drive vehicles.

The bed race drew only two entrants, and was late in starting, but when it was over the Kinsmen had come up the winners.

Free horse drawn sleigh rides throughout the day were a popular attraction for children, and they continued through Sunday as well.

The parade, which left the arena grounds at 2 p.m. drew fewer entrants than organizers had hoped, but those who did take the time to prepare floats did an excellent job of it. Judged first overall was the entry of the PineStone Inn. Second spot went to the Haliburton Figure Skating Club. Third were the students of Victoria Street School, while fourth went to the students of Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School.

Crazy carpet rides drew families to Victoria Street School, and young and old alike enjoyed the slide down the schools' slick hill.

The carnival dinner at the Legion was well attended, and the big dance of the weekend attracted more than 200 people to the Legion Hall Saturday evening. A dance sponsored by the Haliburton Chalkdusters hockey team was also well attended, as players and their friends unwound from the tension of the day's games.

Biggest event of Sunday was the oval track snowmobile races sponsored by the Haliburton Kinsmen Club, with 32 drivers competing in nine classes throughout the afternoon. Complete results of the event appear on page three.

This year's carnival wound up with free public skating sponsored by the local Kinsmen Club, which drew a large number of skaters to the Dysart arena.

100 km. cross country race

Only 17 competitors turned up for the start of a 100 kilometre cross country snowmobile race Saturday that organizers had hoped would attract scores of entries. But despite the turnout, the race went off without a hitch, and those who took part said they were pleased with the course and with the concept of the race.

Pat Kennedy, organizer of the race on behalf of the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton, said Monday that he was "really disappointed" with the small turnout.

Close to 40 snowmobilers had indicated an interest in competing while the race was being organized.

Racers left the arena grounds at 30 second intervals beginning at noon to cover a 73 mile course that wound through bush, unused snowmobile trails, Hydro right-of-ways, and over lakes. They were expected to take at least three hours to complete the course, which featured some extremely rugged and demanding terrain.

But just 111 minutes after the start, Steve Brand of Barrie crossed the finish line on Head Lake on his 1979 Scorpion 440 TKX to win the Echo Cup. Racer with the second best time for the distance was O.J. Mathison on a 440 Kawasaki, who roared over the finish line in a time of 118 minutes.

Defending Echo Cup champion John Coneybeare was leading well into the second half of the race but a broken radiator clamp on his

Chalkduster tournament

Ten teams from across Ontario were in Haliburton over the weekend to compete in the third annual Chalkduster Hockey Tournament.

"Gentleman" rules provided fans with some excellent hockey, and in 13 games, referees assessed only 22 penalties.

In the first round, the local team of Haliburton teachers met Owen Sound. Down 4-3 with a minute to go in the game, the "Dusters" pulled their goalie, but Owen Sound found the unguarded net to put the game out of reach 5-3.

In other games in the first round, Norwood took Lindsay 6-4, Burlington defeated Perth 6-2, Oakville rolled over Huntsville 7-1, and Oak Ridges trounced Thornhill 7-2.

On the consolation side, Lindsay met Haliburton in what turned out to be a close and exciting match.

After some close checking, Lindsay erupted for three quick goals in the second period. The Dusters fought back, and shone as the better team in the third period to come up with a 4-4 tie.

The tie breaking procedure made for tense hockey, as both teams were compelled to pull their goalies and play five aside. Haliburton came on hard in the early minutes of overtime, missing the net or finding the goalpost on several shots. In the end, a shot from Lindsay got by a diving Duster defenseman to give the visitors the win.

In other consolation games, Thornhill took Huntsville 6-5 in overtime, and Perth took Lindsay 6-3. In the consolation final it was Thornhill over Perth 6-4.

On the championship side, Norwood took Owen Sound 2-0, Oakville got by Oak Ridges 5-2, Burlington defeated Norwood 6-4, and in the championship game, Burlington defeated Oakville 6-3 to take the honours.

The winning teams received a trophy and each player on the winning teams were given mugs with the Chalkduster Tournament emblem.

A dance on Saturday evening sponsored by the local team was also a success, according to tournament organizer Gary Brohman.

Arctic Cat cross country machine cost him the race. By the time the problem could be repaired he had dropped to third place, and held on to finish in a time of 120 minutes.

In the 250 fan class, Roger Kirkpatrick was the winner on a 250 Ski-doo in a time of 180 minutes.

In 340 fan, Peter Connolly rode his 300 Yamaha over the line in 133 minutes for the win.

In the 440 fan class it was overall winner Steve Brand, followed by O.J. Mathison, Robert Levesque on a 440 EX Yamaha in 179 minutes, and Rick Hieson on a 440 Scorpion in 211 minutes.

In the 340X class, David Espie was the winner on a Moto Ski supersonic in 142 minutes, followed by Vince Hammond on a Ski-doo in 147 minutes.

In the 440X class John Coneybeare took the honours, followed by Ken Carl on a 440 Arctic Cat in 124 minutes. Doub Kleghorn did not finish on his 440 Ski-doo but was awarded third spot on points, while Lyle McGee, who also did not finish, took fourth spot.

Race organizer Pat Kennedy said the club intends to run it again next year, and will begin laying out an alternate route in the near future to cut down on lake travel, and to make more use of Hydro right-of-way, which this year's competitors said they enjoyed.

Solo races were a crowd pleaser

The action moved to Head Lake Saturday following the start of the cross country snowmobile race, when the first Kinsmen solo car and truck races drew entrants in four classes.

Spectators lined snowbanks at the start/finish area of the 1/4 mile course to watch their favourites try to go around in the fastest time.

Competitors had to run the course both clockwise and counter clockwise before their time was recorded, with a crowd pleasing spin in the start/finish area to reverse direction.

In the four wheel drive heavy class, (over 6000 pounds GVW), it was Bob Parker of Haliburton manhandling his Ford around the course in the best time. In second spot was John Pickering of Ponty Pool in a Dodge.

In the four wheel drive light class (under 6000 pounds GVW), Doug Bates of Gooderham in a GMC got around fastest, while Perry Kimble of Minden was second quickest in an International Scout.

In the two wheel drive truck class, Bob Parker of Haliburton again took the honours, this time in a GMC. John Van Strus of Port Perry was second in a Ford.

Sole entry in the Dune Buggy class was Rick Bragg of Eagle Lake, who had no trouble getting around the course in good time, although the open design of his machine made the ride a little tougher than it was for the truck class entrants.

Only one truck was slightly dented, in the event, despite some hard cornering in all the classes.

Oval racing drew big crowd

The weather was perfect and the track was in excellent condition Sunday for the Kinsmen sponsored oval track snowmobile races on Head Lake.

Hundreds of people were on hand to watch racers fling their machines around the icy corners and fly down the straightaways in an event that always proves to be a highlight of the annual winter carnival.

There were no injuries this year, and only two spills, though an ambulance stood by throughout the afternoon in case of a serious mishap.

Last year, three riders were injured, and race organizer Pat Kennedy attributed the safety of this year's event to a well prepared track and wider corners than last year.

In the 250 fan class it was Rick Lichty of Haliburton on a Yamaha taking the win. In second place was Dan Cornell of Toronto on a Polaroid.

In the 340 fan class, Bill Logan of Peterborough was quickest around the half mile track on his ski-doo, while Peter Connolly of Haliburton was second on a Yamaha.

In 440 fan competition, Wayne Haiden of Grafton won on a ski-doo, followed by Allister Mitchell of Orillia on a Kawasaki.

The 250 F/A or Liquid class was won by Eldon Wallis of Orillia on a Mercury, followed by Al Reed, also of Orillia, and also riding a Mercury.

Among the 440 F/A or Liquid riders, it was Eldon Wallis again on the same Mercury machine, with second spot going to Andy Dow of Severn Bridge on a Snojet Thunderjet.

The 250 modified class was won by Al Reed of Orillia on a Mercury, with Bill Logan of Peterborough second on a Ski-doo.

In 340 modified, Eldon Wallis once again came in first, followed by Al Reed.

In the 440 modified class, Wallis was first followed by Andy Dow.

Some 32 drivers took part in the action, with a total of 82 entries in the various classes.

The time has come for a new approach to the Carnival

The floats have been dismantled, the ice sculptures are slowly melting in the sun, and the ice track on Head Lake is empty. This year's version of the Haliburton Rotary Winter Carnival is history; a confusion of memories.

But before the carnival spirit fades into the expectation of spring, everyone who attended the carnival, and even those who didn't, should pause for a moment to reflect on the events of the weekend, and to consider the carnival's future. For if one thing was clear last weekend in the bustle of carnival events, it is that the time has come for the concept of the winter carnival to be rethought.

Since 1968, when the idea of a winter carnival was first proposed, the Rotary Club of Haliburton have assumed the responsibility for its success or failure. From a humble beginning, they have made the carnival come alive, adding events over the years, and making the weekend an important one. But the time has come for the citizens of Haliburton Village and the surrounding area to make a basic and significant decision. Do we want a winter carnival? And if we do, are we willing to put our time and energy on the line to see that it grows, changes and improves?

The fact is that the carnival is not the community event that it could and should be if the community would stand behind it.

Schools continue to make excellent snow sculptures of course and they, along with a small number of businesses and merchants, continue to respond to the challenge of making floats to enter in the parade or decorating store windows. But the fact remains that the rest of the community does little to contribute to the organization, planning and running of the weekend.

If the parade has become an embarrassment, as more than a few people have remarked, it is not so to those who have entered, and to those who have attempted to organize it. It is an embarrassment rather to those who stand along the route and expect a greater spectacle than a few interested business people, clubs and school children can provide.

Some community groups have already taken up the challenge of helping the Rotary Club with winter carnival weekend. The Chalkduster hockey tournament, the dinners, craft show, bake sales, and especially the work of Pat Kennedy and members of the Kinsmen Club in organizing two days of snowmobile and truck racing, are examples of community involvement in the carnival.

Taken together, however, those groups add up to a very small percentage of the community indeed. A community which prides itself on accomplishment, friendliness and hard work can and should do better.

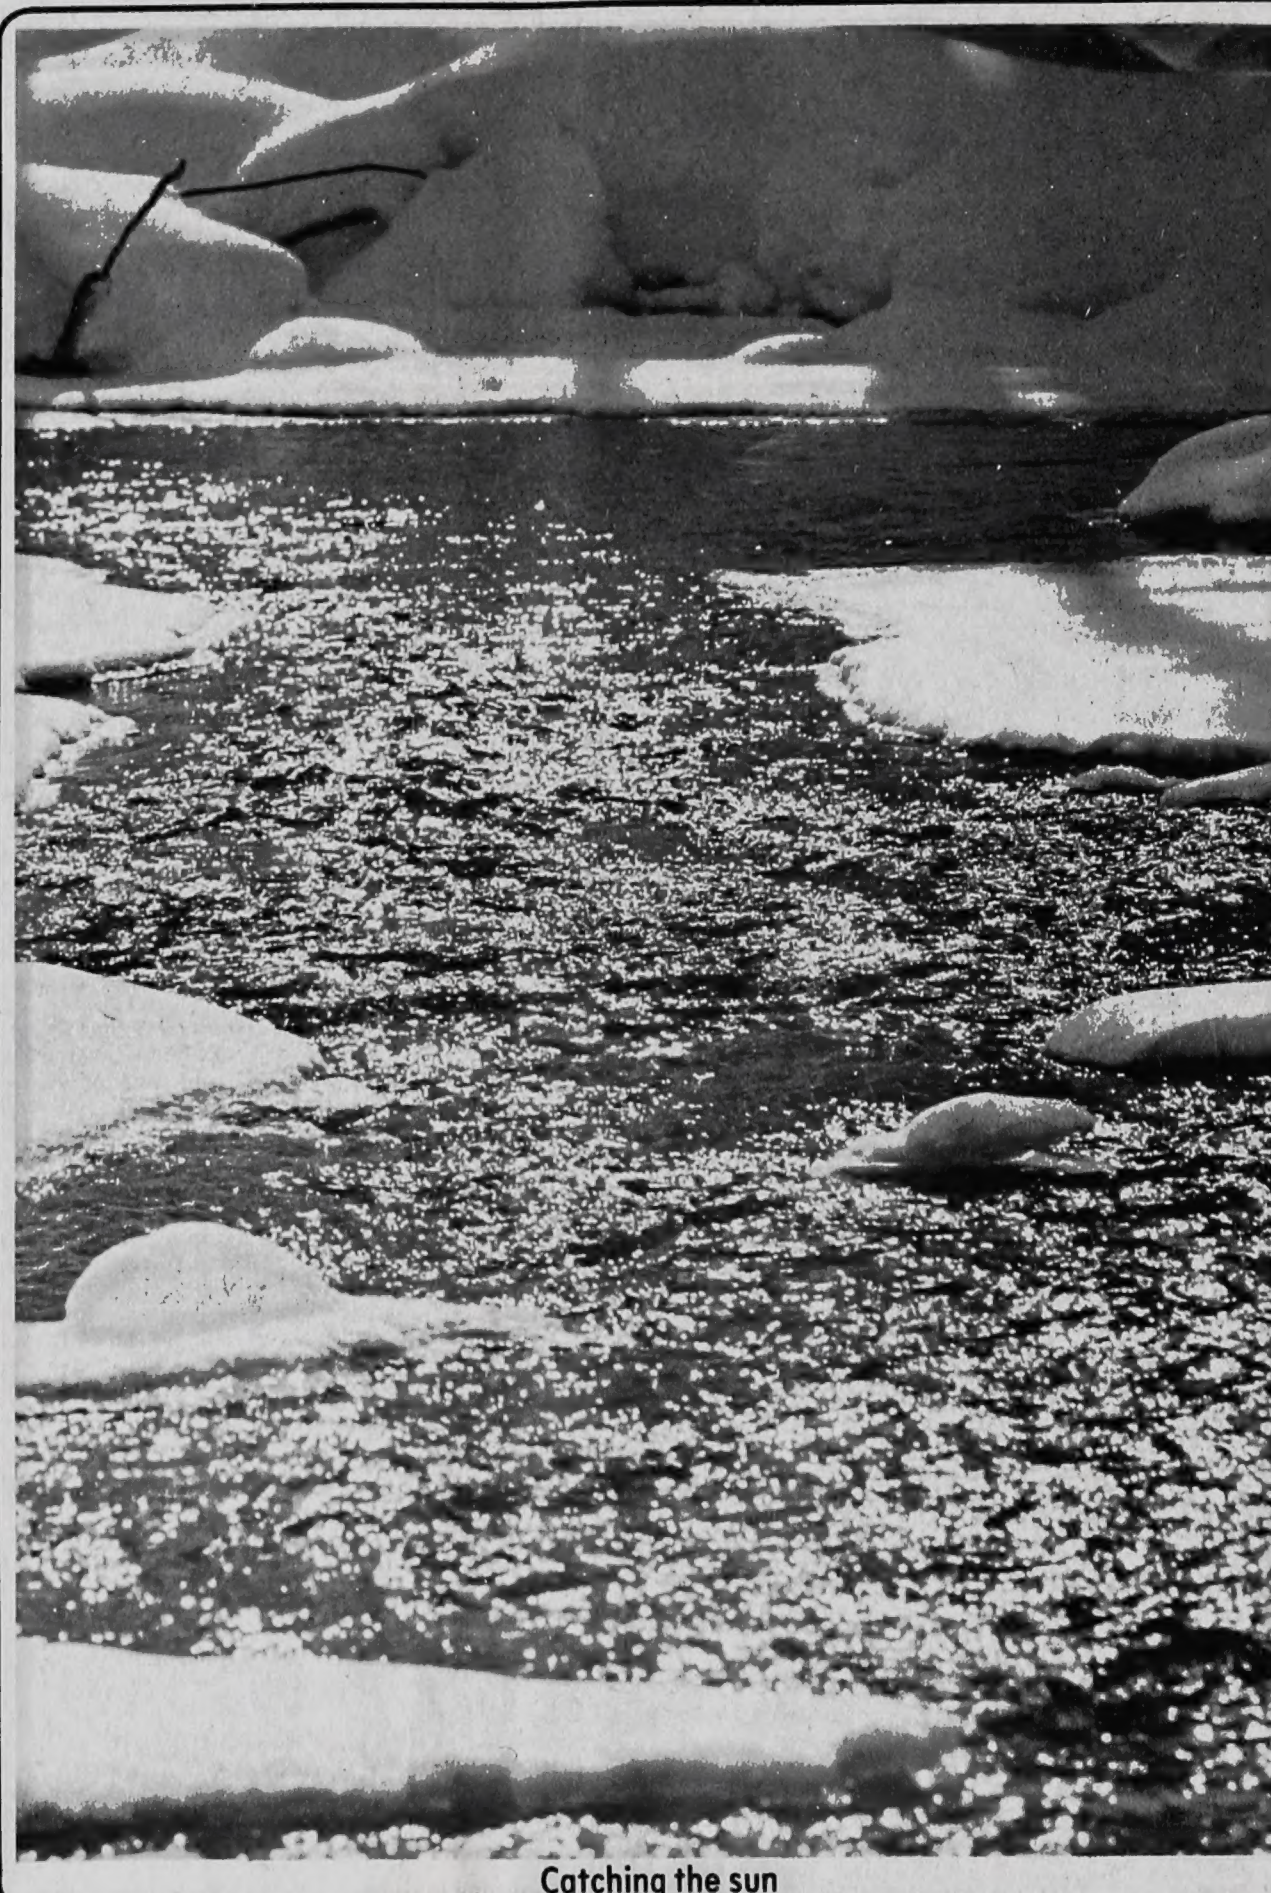

If the Rotary Club continues to be willing to take on the task of organizing the bulk of the weekend's events, they should be commended for doing so. But efforts should also be made to invite more public input into the event, and to shift the burden of organization to a number of committees made up of people from all segments of the community.

In recent years, an increasing number of the weekend's events have taken place indoors, or have been of a passive nature. Spectators watch the parade, the hockey games, the races, but they seldom participate. Outdoor events in which a large number of people could take an active part would be a step in the right direction.

It will not be easy to improve the carnival, and it is not something that can be done in a single year. But the machinery should be set in motion now through which the winter carnival can continue to grow and develop.

A public meeting to seek ideas, the formation of a committee to co-ordinate the carnival, perhaps made up of Rotary Club members and representatives from other community groups and the ratepayers at large, could well be the means of keeping the carnival headed on a path towards improvement.

The winter carnival is for all of us, and all of us have a responsibility to its future.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

The big news for the past week and a half has to be the Soviet and the N.H.L. All Stars, "Series of the Century". There was hardly a place that I visited during this period that someone wasn't discussing this hockey extravaganza. All the newspapers, radio and television have expressed their opinion on the proceedings that took place during these three games in New York and as usual I can't let it go by without throwing my five cents worth in. All these years I thought I knew a great deal about hockey but after witnessing these three games I'm beginning to wonder if I know anything about the game. After looking over the great array of talent that was placed before us before the series got underway I had predicted that the Soviets would be lucky to win one game out of the three. Boy, was I ever wrong. Here we were with the best players and team we could ice, we were at the mid season of the N.H.L. schedule when our players should have been in peak condition, we were playing them on our own pond and N.H.L. rules applied. This time we ran out of excuses and we must admit that we were beaten by a much better team. When a Stanley Cup winner is declared sometime in May of this year, we won't be able to say that they are World Champions because right now it's the Soviets who are the World Champs. We are no longer number 1, we are number 2.

The pros and cons of this series have been thrashed over a thousand times or more, but I think it's time that we have to come to a few conclusions. Can we in the future put up an All Star team against the Soviets? It is my opinion that we can't. We must put the winners of the Stanley Cup as a unit and a team that has played together all season if we are going to stand a chance of winning and even by doing this we will be lucky to do it. The men who call the shots for the National Hockey League seem to be of the opinion that the fans want to see knock him down and pick him up hockey with plenty of brawls and blood all over the ice. When are they ever going to get the message that this isn't what we want to see at all. We want to see hockey the way it was meant to be played and that's the way the Russians play it. During the course of the N.H.L. season and the play-offs, Howie Meeker at different times will tell us that when a player is out of position or not covering his man that he was out to lunch. As far as the past series was concerned that just about sums up where the N.H.L. All Stars stood. They were out to lunch. Out lady, after watching the series, commented that it might be an idea if we took up baseball. The N.H.L. will have to clean up their act and these high paid players will have to start showing up some real hockey for a change. After viewing the past three game series how can we accept second rate hockey?

Every day of the year we must look after our mental, physical and spiritual needs. This week a friend of mine presented me with a copy of "A Love Letter From Jesus".

How are you? I just had to send this letter to tell you how much I love and care about you. I saw you yesterday as you were walking with your friends. I waited all day, hoping you would talk to me also. As evening drew near, I gave you a sunset to close your day and a cool breeze to rest you, and I waited. You never came. Oh yes, it hurt me, but I still love you because I am your friend.

I saw you fall asleep last night, and I long to touch your brow, so I spilled moonlight upon your pillow and face. Again I waited, wanting to rush down so we could talk. I have so many gifts for you.

You awakened late and rushed off for the day. My tears were in the rain. Today you looked so sad, so alone. It makes my heart ache because I understand. My friends let me down and hurt me many times, too; but I love you. I try to tell you in the quiet green grass, I whisper it in the leaves and trees, breathe it in the colours of the flowers.

I shout it to you in the mountain streams and give the birds love-songs to sing. I clothe you with warm sunshine and perfume the air. My love for you is deeper than oceans and bigger than the biggest want or need you have.

We will spend eternity together in Heaven. I know how hard it is on this earth, I really know (because I was here) and I want to help you. My Father wants to help you too. He's that way, you know. Just call me, ask me, talk to me. It is your decision. I have chosen you and because of this I will wait.....because I love you.

Your friend,
JESUS

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I was most surprised to read Mrs. Tidwell's complaint about the Minden Red Cross Hospital because I have reason to be grateful for it.

A few months ago I was involved in an accident at about 3 a.m. on a Sunday. I went to the hospital because I thought I needed stitches in my chin. The doctor was called and thanks to the prompt and skilful medical attention of Dr. Holliday-Rhodes I only have a slight scar to show for my mishap.

I don't know which doctor Mrs. Tidwell was referring to but, I personally, have always received excellent medical care from both Minden doctors.

Editor's Notebook

by Len Pizzev

Writing for a newspaper like the Echo is a very public business. Make a mistake and its right there in black and white for thousands of readers to see. But though reporters and editors like me can find themselves on the hot seat for what they've said, they can sometimes get in as much trouble for what they haven't said.

Take the editorial to the left of this column as an example. It talks about the winter carnival, and suggests that the time has come to seek more involvement from the community for the good of the carnival's future. One paragraph in particular criticizes those who complain about the size and content of the parade. Now an astute reader, in the habit of reading between the lines, might well see that I have avoided putting the blame for the size of the parade on specific people, and have instead tried to say something positive about those who did take the time to enter.

But that astute reader might well read those words and say to himself or herself, "Okay, so where was the Echo in all of this."

The Echo, of course, was on the street, among the crowd, watching, expecting, and feeling more than a little guilty for that position. It's not that we didn't have the best intentions. We did. And no doubt a lot of other people who didn't have floats in that parade had the same set of good intentions. And like us, they probably have a handy number of ready-made excuses for watching rather than participating.

For the record, our excuse is that not one of us was willing to take the situation in hand, come up with an idea for a float, and find something to build it upon. For a week or so, the standing joke around the office was which of us would be delegated to be the chairman of the float committee. And whenever the matter came up, we would laugh it off, expecting that the other person really was going to come up with something as the week wore on. By Friday, we knew it was too late. We had ideas by then, none of them very practical, but we had no materials, no wagon, and no time.

On parade day we hoped there would be dozens of entries, and that our absence wouldn't be noticed.

There weren't dozens of entries of course. In fact, there were fewer than ten, and the float we had thought of but had not built hung over us like a sword of Damocles, waiting for that astute reader or perceptive citizen who would call our bluff.

The experience has shown me how easy it is to be critical, and how hard it is to do something constructive when the opportunity stares you right in the face.

We have to eat humble pie, as do all those other by-standers who could have done something but didn't.

There will be a next year of course, but there may not be many more unless the pattern to which we fell prey can be made to change. Next year, there will be no excuse for us, and for the good of the carnival, let us hope there will be none for the others whose floats remained an idea rather than a reality.

At a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton, Rotarian Ron Curry introduced Frank Wallace (local high school teacher) who gave an interesting presentation in regard to the feasibility of recreating "Stonehenge some 4,000 years later right here in downtown Haliburton or environs.

There is an old saying that if we don't stand for something soon we will stand for anything. How true this is. There is one way that you can speak out and have your say on local issues and that's by sitting down and writing a Letter to the Editor to this newspaper. Recently we have been receiving many such letters which makes us very happy. People love to read these letters and we hope that you will keep on writing them. It gives each and everyone of you the opportunity to air your views on subjects of the day. If you have a pet beef or a problem that has been bothering you for some time, get it off your chest and let's hear from you. In other words keep those letters coming in.

For the past few weeks I have been having trouble with the roller on my typewriter and it was getting to the point that as I wrestled trying to get the paper in straight that at one time I had visions of throwing it into the lake. My problems were all solved last Wednesday when in desperation I asked Brett Zufelt, General Manager of the Peterborough Review when he was here on business to take a look at it and see if he could solve my problem. You should have seen the look on my face when he handed me a dime that had been stuck way down in the roller. Thanks to Brett I'm back in business again.

Cold Weather Costs Operators

It appears the record cold snap that we have been enduring is finally receding and none too soon. The additional inconvenience and cost of heating that this has caused all individuals is of course multiplied for those involved in carrying on business through the winter. Most resort operators have accommodation that was originally built for summer use that has been winterized and much of this becomes painfully inadequate under these extreme conditions. Not only were they trying in vain to keep their guests comfortable, but possibly losing money in the process through heating costs.

With the experience of the tremendous increase we are presently seeing in winter tourism and this extreme cold pointing up the weaknesses in present facilities we anticipate seeing a great deal of activity in the coming year to upgrading and winterizing tourist operations.

Acid Rain Meeting

The subject of acid rain is now receiving considerable publicity and anyone concerned with the future of our county should attend the upcoming meeting at the Minden Municipal office on Wednesday, February 28th at 7:30 p.m. The speaker is not a government official and is not there to defend their position. He is an independent scientist who has studied the problem and searched for the answers and is here to help make us better informed in that regard.

Acid rain has been referred to as a "Time Bomb". You can't see it, smell it, taste it, and it won't hurt you physically as far as they know. In spite of this it could spell economic disaster for an area such as ours that depends on tourism as an economic base. Let there be no mistake about it - There is a problem! - It may be of some help if we understand it better.

Ministry's "Closed Workshop"

By way of clarification we thought it may be advisable to explain why the workshop run earlier in the month by the Ministry of Treasury and Economics was "closed to the press and general public". The ministry employees in an effort to get some meaningful dialogue going that would aid them in preparing their report invited a "representative" group together to discuss problems and solutions. Business and association people were invited to participate that would represent a good cross section of all those related to our tourist industry. In the interests of creating free flowing dialogue the press was not invited, but this was certainly not because of any secrecy.

No decisions were expected from the meeting, merely enough discussion to help form a base for their report. We think it was a good idea and we hope no one will be offended by not being included. A larger group than this would have been very difficult to work with in a workshop atmosphere as intended. The proof of the success of it, of course will be in the report itself, which hopefully will contain some very useful ideas and information.

Ontario, Quebec, announce new joint tourism agreement

Simultaneous announcements in Toronto and Quebec City this week marked the official start of the most far reaching co-operative tourism agreement ever undertaken between the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

The agreement, reached between Ontario Industry and Tourism Minister Larry Grossman and Quebec Tourism, Fish and Game Minister Yves Duhaime, outlines a shared cost, international tourism campaign aimed at increasing the number and length of stay of visitors to the sister provinces. It is expected that the venture will generate an increase in tourism revenue to help offset the national tourism deficit.

Co-operative efforts between Ontario and Quebec in the past met with great success. This endeavour will, however, be much more than an expanded Heritage Highways program, according to the Ministry.

Tourism is an industry of prime importance to both provinces. A minimum of $2 million will be invested by each party before the agreement expires March 31, 1982.

The merging of forces is intended to double the lure of both provinces as a long-haul destination. When they are developed, combined tour packages will allow visitors to Ontario and Quebec the opportunity to experience the best of Canada's multi-cultural sights, sounds and nature, the Ministry says.

Under the agreement, development and expansion of tourism markets in Japan, the United Kingdom, Western Europe, the U.S.A. and Canada will be tackled in unison by both Ontario and Quebec. In these market areas, tourism consultants from both provinces will work together to co-ordinate promotional activities and conduct seminars with travel agents, transportation companies, hoteliers and tour operators.

The main thrust of the co-operative efforts will be aimed at multiplying long-distance travel to Ontario and Quebec. Combined press tours, literature, advertising campaigns and research will be undertaken to fully inform the travel trade of the benefits of vacationing in Ontario and Quebec.

In addition, joint promotion missions with members drawn from both province's governments and tourism industries will take place in target markets.

To ensure its effectiveness, a consulting committee of members from both provinces will review and assess the program's activities on an on-going basis, the Ministry says.

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

There has been considerable discussion recently about the so-called "new North American phenomenon" of the elderly and their role in society. To a great extent, this subject has become one of widespread interest because of the age-to-youth balance of our populations. In the early 1900s people 65 years of age and over made up a mere 5 percent of the Canadian population. By 1978 this figure had risen to 9 percent. It will reach 12 percent by the year 2000. Two decades later it is expected to exceed 20 percent. By the year 2031 there will be only three working adults for every person over 65.

What is not a new phenomenon - North American or otherwise - is the concept that older people have an important contribution to make to society.

Throughout history we find convincing proof that mental powers increase with age. Artistic and intellectual powers are intensified in later years. Michelangelo was still producing masterpieces at 89. Goethe completed the second part of Faust when he was eighty-two. Handel was still composing beautiful music and Longfellow was still writing immortal poetry when they were past seventy. Voltaire wrote Candide at sixty-five.

In our own lifetime many older people have achieved success and fulfillment in what used to be considered the twilight years.

Winston Churchill led Britain and the Free World through the Second Great War when he was past "retirement age". He probably regarded the 65-year-old deadline as a German conspiracy since it has been originated by Chancellor Bismarck in the first place. At 85 Coco Chanel was head of a fashion design firm. Pablo Picasso produced drawings and engravings at 90. There are countless examples in the field of classical music - Stokowski, Von Karajan, Sir Adrian Boult, Toscanini, Horowitz, all well past retirement age. Leonard Bernstein is a comparative infant at 65.

Merely by reason of having lived a goodly number of years, older people have acquired tremendous knowledge, wisdom and understanding, from which we can all benefit. They can contribute to the guidance and stability which our whole society so desperately needs. But they cannot do this if they are segregated, "put out to pasture" or forced to be almost totally preoccupied with their own basic needs.

We have incredibly complex problems today. Enormous pressures are brought to bear on individuals and on governments. Just as we need the talents and abilities of our young people, many of whom are frustrated because of high unemployment and lack of opportunity, so do we need the talents and abilities of our older citizens.

Bill Smiley

Recently I've been teaching that perennial favorite, The Merchant of Venice, by William Shakespeare. It's a light, romantic comedy, but through the pretty speeches and comic complications runs an iron and an irony that almost steals the play every time it is read or performed: the story of Shylock the money-lender and his insistence on his pound of flesh.

That word and that phrase have become part of our language. You may have heard someone say, "He's a regular Shylock," or "He always wants his pound of flesh." They are synonyms of a merciless greed, hatred, and desire for revenge.

For those who have forgotten the plot, or haven't read or seen the play, I'll give a pocket synopsis.

A rich merchant is approached by his best friend, a young man who has squandered all his money, including a goodly sum the merchant has lent him. The young fellow wants his friend to lend him another sum, about $35,000, so that he can get himself all duded up and marry a wealthy heiress, upon which he will return all the money he owes. For friendship's sake, the rich merchant says, "No problem. All my cash is tied up in ships at sea with rich cargoes, but my credit is excellent. Go borrow the money and I'll back your note." Or words to that effect. I am Will Smiley, not Will Shakespeare.

So the young blade goes to a notorious money-lender, Shylock, who agrees to lend him the money for three months. Usually, he charges more interest than Household Finance, but this time he won't charge any. The plot thickens.

In a few sneering asides, we learn that Shylock hates the rich merchant. He has reasons. The merchant has spat upon him, spurned him, called him dog, and hurt him badly in the pocketbook by lending money interest-free. Shylock can stand the spitting and the names, but he turns purple when he thinks someone is lending money with no interest when he could be copping 40 percent.

He sees his chance. Sure, he'll lend the young spender the money, interest-free, provided the merchant will sign a bond: that if the money is not repaid by a certain date, Shylock may take a pound of flesh from any part of the merchant's body.

It's all a joke, of course. As Shylock points out, a pound of human flesh is not worth as much as a pound of veal, or even a pound of hamburger. (This was before inflation. I wouldn't bet on it nowadays.)

The rich merchant agrees, airily. After all, his ships will be in with their rich cargoes a whole month before the bond is due. And nobody would take a pound of flesh.

(Shh!) We in the audience know that Shylock will take a pound of flesh from the heart area, and that the laws of the city will back him up, if the bond is signed in quadruplicate.)

Well, well. It is rumoured on the stock exchange that the rich merchant's ships have all been lost at sea, and he is bankrupt.

Big trial scene. The law upholds Shylock's claim. Old Shy is whetting a big carving knife on his boot. The rich merchant stands, breast bared. It's as good as the old melodrama, with the heroine tied to the railway tracks by the villain, and the train fast approaching.

Smart young lawyer to the rescue. Shylock may take his pound of flesh, but not one drop of blood, not one ninth of an ounce more or less than a pound, or his own life, and all his property, is forfeit. Try that one on the next pig you kill.

Now Shylock was stumped. (An old cricket term, chaps.) and that Will Shakespeare knew his law. He was continually involved in litigation, like many a playwright. A great (to me) line in one of his plays goes, "Let's hang all the lawyers."

Anyway, the whole thing got me thinking of usury. This was once an honest term meaning interest on money loaned. It has since come to mean charging excessive interest on money loaned. A dirty business.

In Elizabethan England, usury was a crime, and heavily punished. Right up to the death penalty, depending on whom you knew, in the right circles.

And I began thinking about usury, in its pejorative (that means name-calling) sense, in our society today. Is it shameful to be a usurer? Is usury something to be hidden under the rug? Are there any penalties for usury? Answer: no. Our modern usurers are not even ashamed of what they do. They advertise it in all the media.

They run all the way from our banks, among our most respected institutions, down to our finance companies, so called, among our less respected institutions, all the way to the hood in Montreal who will lend you money at 100 percent interest, and break you knees with a baseball bat if you don't pay up.

Try borrowing $20,000 from Ann Murray, who touts for a Canadian bank, with no interest. Her look would shrivel your gizzard. Try borrowing from a "finance company" without pledging your grandmother's bones for fertilizer in case you can't meet the deadline.

We are surrounded by usurers, sucking the blood out of us. Maybe Shakespeare was right. Line up all the bank managers in Canada, shoot them quietly, and burn the presidents of banks and finance companies at the stake. I'd enjoy that.

Pee Wees advance following second 3 game playoff sweep

Haliburton's OMHA Pee Wees continue to roll over their opponents in convincing style.

On February 6, the Pee Wees completed a three game sweep of Cannington in first round best of five playoff action. Last week they repeated the pattern, taking three in a row from Coldwater to advance to next round, when they'll meet Port Carling.

The team travelled to Coldwater Sunday, February 11, and in a low scoring contest, took the lead late in the first period and were never behind for the rest of the game.

Haliburton's first tally came with just 15 seconds left in the first period. Getting the goal was Bernie Upton, with assists from Rick Barum and Mike MacNaull.

Coldwater came storming out in the first moments of the second period, beating Haliburton's Steven Dodd at the 23 second mark.

Both teams had a number of chances throughout the rest of the period, but neither was able to connect for a score.

In the third period, Haliburton came out determined, and it was left to Kelly Mitchell to put the game on ice with an unassisted goal at the 6:42 mark.

Haliburton hung on to the lead, and headed home one up in the series.

Last Tuesday, February 13, the teams met for the second time but with the home ice advantage, Haliburton proved to be too much for Coldwater once again.

Both sides traded shots throughout the first period, but Haliburton connected first, with a score off the stick of Charles Teljeur at the 13:47 mark, assisted by Rick Barum.

Neither side was able to find the net in the second period and the score remained one nothing in Haliburton's favour for the start of third period action.

Haliburton moved ahead 2-0 at the 3:04 mark of the third when Andrew Bishop scored unassisted.

Eight Midget hockey clubs were in Minden Saturday for the fourth annual Tim Harrison Memorial Hockey Tournament, and when it was all over, Beaverton had beaten Minden and Port Perry had beaten Haliburton for the championship and consolation championship respectively.

Action got underway at 8 a.m. when Haliburton and Minden faced off to see who would head for the championship side of the competition.

Minden's Harold Porter got his team off the mark quickly when he put one past Haliburton goalie Dave Elstone at 25 seconds into the period, assisted by Ron Yake.

Haliburton fought back however, tying the game with a goal at 1:58 off the stick of Paul Madden, assisted by Doug Tallman and Dave Dodd.

Haliburton moved ahead just eight seconds later on a quick passing series from the faceoff. Don Thompson was the Haliburton marksman, assisted by Dave Nicholls.

Minden came back to even the score at 7:16, when Ron Yake put one in assisted by Harold Porter, and went ahead at the 2:21 mark of the second period on Harold Porter's second of the game, assisted by Bret Austin.

Neither team got on the board again in the second period and it wasn't until the 7:49 mark of the third that Minden's Corey Walker put the game on ice with an unassisted goal.

In other games in first round action, Oshawa took Orono 6-1, Bancroft took Port Perry on the strength of scoring the first goal in a 1-1 tie game, and Beaverton took Lakefield 3-1.

In second round action, Haliburton met Orono on the consolation side and came up on the winning end of a 5-2 score.

Haliburton came out quickly, tallying at the 24 second mark off the stick of Butch Manary, assisted by Dave Nicholls.

Orono tied it up at 4:36, but Haliburton moved ahead again at 8:29 when Doug Tallman put one in the net, assisted by Dave Nicholls and Duff Mitchell.

In the second period, it was Haliburton scoring their third of the contest at 1:23 off the stick of Dave Nicholls, assisted by Doug Tallman.

Haliburton got two more in the third, at 2:40, from Butch Manary assisted by Dave Dodd and Paul Madden, and at 4:38 when Brian Lloyd scored unassisted.

Orono got their second of the game at 7:39 and the match ended 5-2 in Haliburton's favour.

Minden met Oshawa in the first game on the championship side of the tournament, and at the end of three periods the Minden Midgets were two goals ahead of their opponents.

Minden got on the scoreboard first when Harold Porter put one past the Oshawa netminder at the 9:10 mark. With just six seconds left in the period, Kevin Shapiro scored to give Minden a two goal lead going into the second period.

In the second it was Oshawa narrowing the gap to one with a goal at the 4:35 mark. The score remained 2-1 for Minden until 4:01 of the third period, when Ron Yake got the insurance goal to move Minden to a 3-1 win and a chance at the championship.

On the consolation side, Port Perry tied Lakefield at three goals each, but got the win for scoring first, setting the stage for a battle with Haliburton for the consolation final.

Bancroft lost to Beaverton 2-1 on the championship side, making it Minden and Beaverton in the championship final.

Only Bobcaygeon's goalie kept the score down

Huskies take Bobcaygeon with ease

Haliburton Huskies had no trouble outplaying a weak and disorganized Bobcaygeon team Sunday night in Haliburton in the first game of their best of seven playoff series.

The Huskies kept the pressure on Bobcaygeon goalie, Randy Paul throughout the contest, and only some excellent play on his part kept the Huskies margin of victory down to three goals.

Bobcaygeon showed Sunday why it finished in the cellar with 18 losses, a single victory, and one tie in regular season play. The Bobcaygeon players were simply unable to pass and shoot effectively, and a weak defense let the Huskies pepper goalie Paul at will.

The meeting set the stage for what most fans feel will be a four game sweep of the series and a final against either Lakefield or Bancroft.

The Huskies came out skating in the first period, but it wasn't until the 9:05 mark that Chris Hodgson was able to put one by hard working Bobcaygeon netminder. Assisting on Hodgson's goal was Dwight Sisson.

With Bobcaygeon short-handed after an interference call against defenseman Paul Childley, the Huskies mounted a power play and kept the pressure on for a minute and half before Dwight Sisson connected at 13:47 from Hodgson and Andy Salvatori.

Neither team got on the scoreboard again throughout the period, though the Huskies continued to outplay Bobcaygeon.

The Huskies were short-handed twice in the early minutes of the second period, but Bobcaygeon was unable to muster an effective offence, and the Huskies did an excellent job of ragging the puck and keeping their opponents frustrated.

Joe Roberts connected again for the Huskies at the 14:28 mark from Steve Davies and Randy Barras to put the Huskies ahead 3-0.

With the Huskies' Kevin O'Hara sitting out the first seconds of a two minute elbowing call, Bobcaygeon connected on a power play at 16:37.

The goal seemed to put some spark into the Bobcaygeon forwards. They managed to keep some pressure on the Huskies for the rest of the period, but were unable to put the puck past goalie Craig Wood.

In the third period, Bobcaygeon kept the momentum for the early minutes, although Haliburton got on the scoreboard again at 1:56 when a booming slapshot from Larry Stinson that appeared to be wide of the net was deflected into the crease by the Bobcaygeon goalie.

Assist on Stinson's goal went to Andy Salvatori.

The Huskies were a man short for a minute and 19 seconds, from 7:41 to the nine minute mark when Davies and Farnsworth were in the box for holding and slashing respectively and an elbowing call sent a Bobcaygeon man off. Bobcaygeon was unable to organize a serious threat, however, although the four man to three advantage opened up the game briefly.

Referees Don Stinson and W.T. Earl kept a firm grip on the proceedings, calling a total of ten penalties in the period, six against the Huskies and four against Bobcaygeon. Despite the emphasis on keeping the game in hand however, Bobcaygeon's hapless offence offered few threats to the Huskies and few exciting moments for fans.

At the 12:52 mark, Huskies Dave Brown drew blood on a high sticking infraction and was sent off for five minutes, giving Bobcaygeon the man advantage once again.

The game slowed to a crawl however, as the Haliburton forwards did an effective job of backchecking and dumped the puck back into the Bobcaygeon end repeatedly.

Bobcaygeon seldom had control of the puck for the rest of the game and the contest ended 4-1 for the Huskies.

The teams pair off again Friday in Bobcaygeon, with the third game of the series scheduled for Sunday at 2 p.m. at Haliburton.

Bobcaygeon's defense was decidedly weak

Along the Trails by Roy Bates

Here Today, Gone Tomorrow

One of the more frequent complaints heard by directors of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association concerns signage along the trails. People tell us they can't find their way from point to point because trail intersections are not marked adequately to show the destination of each route.

Sometimes it's a case of not looking closely enough at the signs that are there, but more often it's a case of signs that were there being there no longer. On some trails, signs have a way of disappearing almost as fast as they're put up!

Strangely enough, the better the sign the more likely it is to be vandalized. The club went to considerable expense this year to acquire some of the new official trail signs distributed through the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs. These are made of a heavy gauge steel stock to automobile licence plate quality. They will last for years, but only if they are left alone.

We appeal to all who use our trails, please, hands off our trail signs.

Snowmobiling Prohibited

We have been asked to appeal to all snowmobilers to refrain from riding through the school grounds and driveways at Haliburton. This shortcut from Head Lake to Grass Lake presents a very real danger to the students of both schools and cannot be tolerated. A satisfactory alternate route exists across the football field, along the base of the railroad embankment and the ditch line of the highway. Please go that way next time.

As is usual in mid-February, snow conditions, have improved to the point where you can ride your snowmobile just about anywhere. Don't!

The law requires that you have written permission from every landowner whose property you cross. The snowmobile club has obtained permission on your behalf for the groomed trails only. If you leave the trails you are trespassing.

Bantams wrap up series against Cannington 3-0

Haliburton Tri-County Bantams wrapped up their playoff series against Cannington in three straight, last week, but not before the teams split two points in a hard fought second game that ended in a tie.

In the first game of the series Haliburton took Cannington 3-1, but the Cannington players came to Haliburton determined to even the score last Tuesday, and the result was a see-saw battle that left both teams tied.

Haliburton's John Teljeur opened the scoring at the 4:33 mark of the first period, with an assist from Marla MacNaull. Neither team could get on the scoreboard for the rest of the period, and it wasn't until the 7:42 mark of the second period that Cannington got the tying marker on a breakaway.

At the 3:13 mark of the third, Cannington moved into the lead but the Haliburton team fought back and at 4:45, Tony Vanlieshout connected with an assist from Colin Hore.

The action was tense throughout the rest of regulation play, as both teams fought hard to come up with the winning goal. But despite end to end rushes and pressure on both goaltenders, neither team could connect again, and each was awarded a single point for the 2-2 tie.

Apparently rested and sensing that a win would end the series, Haliburton came out hard last Wednesday, and on the strength of a strong third period, put Cannington out for the season.

At the 2:03 mark of the first period, Haliburton went ahead on a goal by Tony Vanlieshout, assisted by Dean Curry.

Cannington hung on for the period, evening the score at 5:26, but Haliburton dominated play for the rest of the game.

In the second period it was Dean Curry scoring the winning goal at 3:48, assisted by Tony Vanlieshout and Colin Hore.

With the game in hand, Haliburton kept the pressure on, and in the third period Cannington seemed to wilt under a barrage of neat passing plays and accurate shooting.

The insurance marker came at 4:45 of the period off the stick of Dwayne Giles, assisted by Dean Curry and Colin Hore.

Three minutes later, at 7:32, Marla MacNaull connected with her first of the game, assisted by Curry and Tony Vanlieshout.

Just 18 seconds later, at 7:50, Vanlieshout tallied his second of the game, assisted by Hore and Curry.

Haliburton's final goal of the contest came with just a minute and 27 seconds left on the clock, as Danny Johnson put one past the Cannington netminder, assisted by Dean Curry and Marla MacNaull.

Final score was Haliburton 6, Cannington 1.

Tri-County Bantams will now face Omeme for a three out of five series in the second round of elimination play.

High three game winners in the Hiram Walker Spiel was the rink of Maxine Vine, Bruce Collings, May Collins and Tom Vine (skip).

In third spot with 50½ points was another Haliburton rink consisting of John Wilson, Debbie Wilson, Rick Wood and Connie Wood.

In first spot among the two game winners was the Haliburton rink of Steven Collier, Jean Collier, Grant Wallace and Suzanne Denman.

In the consolation final, it was Port Perry scoring the only goal of the first period, at the 1:47 mark.

Port Perry got on the scoreboard again late in the second period, with a goal at 8:34 to take a 2-0 lead. But Haliburton battled back and narrowed the margin to one when Brian Lloyd connected with just 21 seconds left in the period, assisted by Jim Lee.

The third period was a wide open contest with Haliburton's Doug Tallman evening the score at two each with an unassisted goal at 5:24.

Port Perry went ahead again on a goal at the 8:00 minute mark, but Haliburton came back to tie it up at 8:55. Once again it was Doug Tallman connecting, with an assist from Butch Manary.

The teams were tied at the end of regulation play, and in overtime it was Port Perry scoring at 5:32 to take the consolation trophy.

Final score was Port Perry 4, Haliburton 3.

In the championship game, it was Minden scoring first against Beaverton, when Tim Davies found the mark at 4:25 of the first.

Beaverton tied it up at 5:31, and despite end to end play and excellent scoring opportunities, both goaltenders stayed sharp.

Beaverton got the go ahead marker at 3:37 of the second period, and put the insurance goal in at 7:19 of the third to take the championship 3-1.

met in Coldwater for the first game of the series, and in a see-saw battle that saw the lead change three times, Coldwater came out on top on the strength of three goals in the third period.

Coldwater got on the board first, scoring at 1:14, and following it up with another 31 seconds later, at 1:45.

Haliburton battled back for the rest of the period, with Butch Manary scoring at 2:13 from Doug Tallman, Brian Lloyd putting one in at 8:22 to even the score from Roger Hicks and Dave Dodd, and Darrin MacInnes getting the go ahead score at 9:42 unassisted.

Coldwater tied it up at 1:21 of the second period, and the teams stayed even through the rest of the period.

In the third it was Haliburton moving into the lead once again when Doug Tallman got his first of the night at 3:54, assisted by Tony Scheffee and Butch Manary.

Coldwater tied it up again at 9:51 of the period, and from then on the game was never back in Haliburton's hands. Coldwater made it 5-4 at 11:41 and put the insurance goal in the net with just ten seconds left to come up with a 6-4 win.

The teams met again last Wednesday in Haliburton, and once again the action was close, though this time Haliburton had to fight from behind throughout most of the game.

Haliburton got off to a fast start, when Tony Scheffee scored at the 18 second mark, assisted by Butch Manary and Doug Tallman.

Coldwater tied it up at 7:06, and the period ended with the teams even.

In the second period it was Coldwater getting the go

Chris LaPorte made it 3-0 less than two minutes later, at 4:14, assisted by David Giles and Andrew Bishop.

Coldwater managed to ruin the shutout for goalie Steve Dodd with a score at 3:14, but it was too late to gain the momentum, and Haliburton had their second straight win, 3-1.

It was do or die for Coldwater when they travelled to Haliburton once again for the third game of the series, Friday, but the visitors couldn't rise to the challenge.

Haliburton gave Coldwater their first indication of the way it would end when Harold Rowbotham connected at 7:22 of the first period, assisted by Mike MacNaull.

The two teamed up again with just six seconds left in the period to make it 2-0 for Haliburton at the end of the first.

In the second period Coldwater cut the lead to a single goal with a score at the 2:30 mark, but Haliburton roared back with their third of the night at 3:46 off the stick of Jeff Bain, assisted by Bernie Upton and Kelly Mitchell.

The score remained Haliburton 3, Coldwater 1 until the 2:50 mark of the third period, when Kelly Mitchell got the home team's final goal of the night, assisted by Bernie Upton and Harold Participate in Canada's Employment Tax Credit Program.

The Employment Tax Credit Program was introduced by the Government of Canada to stimulate employment in the private sector.

In essence, we're encouraging you to expand your work force by providing a tax break for your business.

The potential annual tax credit for each new employee is over $3,000. And there is no limit to the number of new employees you can hire.

Now, by using the experience we've gained so far, we've changed the program to make it even more attractive.

Up to 33% more tax credit.

The maximum term for the tax credit has been increased from nine to 12 months for each new employee. That means up to 33% more tax credit.

Greater eligibility. We have expanded the number and types of businesses eligible to benefit. Now almost every business that's been operating in Canada for a year or more can join in.

Wider choice of new employees. Now, almost anyone who's unemployed and registered at a Canada Employment Centre for a minimum of two weeks is eligible.

A minimum of red tape. We've simplified the procedure, so you can do the whole thing, from beginning to end, with just two single-page forms.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

Like a breath of spring! That, I guess, is how you would describe the simulated trip to California that I enjoyed last Monday at the Toronto Eaton Centre. It is part of a spring promotional campaign that Eaton's are advertising under the name "Uncrate the sun". In a lifelike interior of an American airline DC-10, we experienced the sights and sounds and tastes of life at 35,000 feet. We buckled our seatbelts and on T.V. watched the take-off as the pilot sees it, were served by an American airline crew a delicious luncheon salad plate of California fruits and cold meat. We also saw a short in-flight film and a lively fashion show of spring's new looks. We were only "aboard" for an hour and a half but it seemed as if we had actually flown to Los Angeles and would leave the plane and be in sunny California. However, it was not so.

Parents of school children who attend the Norland Public School have received a notice this week regarding the partial eclipse of the sun on Monday, February 26. It has been suggested by the principal, Mr. Hough that since the eclipse will occur from approximately 10:50 a.m. to 1:25 p.m., that all pupils remain inside the school for the lunch hour and during the noon hour play games and/or watch the eclipse on the television. Since it is possible to burn the retina of the eye if you look directly at the sun, this procedure would be a safety factor. Victoria County Board of Education is making special arrangements for all pupils in this county to watch this partial eclipse on T.V. to avoid any eye damage. Since the eclipse will either partially or fully obliterate the sun, this area will probably be in partial or total darkness. Something for everyone to think about and remember.

Jim Brown was the lucky man who won the Firemen's Hockey Pool on Saturday, February 10.

Township firemen had a fire call about 9:30 a.m. on Friday, February 16 when someone passing by the home of John Johnson on Highway 35 just south of Kenny's service station noticed smoke pouring out from under eaves near the roof. By the time the fire trucks arrived on the scene, the fire was well established and it was impossible to save the building or many of its contents. Fortunately Mr. Johnson was at work in Lindsay and Mrs. Johnson and their child were visiting in Orillia at the time of the mishap and no one was injured. It is thought that the fire started in the garage attached to the rear of the ahead marker at 3:59, and making it 3-1 at 4:18.

Haliburton narrowed the gap to 3-2 at 5:08 off the stick of Butch Manary, assisted by Mike Rae and Darrin MacInnes.

At 5:23, Coldwater moved out in front by two again, but Haliburton cut the lead to one when Doug Tallman scored at 10:01, assisted by Tony Scheffer.

Coldwater scored again with just 23 seconds left in the period to make it 5-3 going into the third.

Neither team could find the net in the third, as Coldwater nursed their two goal lead and a frustrated Haliburton club couldn't connect until the final seconds of the game, when Ben Matthews scored at 14:56 assisted by Doug Tallman.

Haliburton must now win three straight if they hope to move on the next round of the playoffs.

house. The building burned most of the day with firemen at the scene from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; a long, unpleasant, cold day with the temperature hovering at 0 degrees Fahrenheit and a bitter north-east wind.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stene-ford recently spent a weekend visiting with Mr. and Mrs. William Lilley of Nevison Dr. Mr. Lilley would like to thank all who have made contributions to the jar in the post office that is used to help pay for feed for the ducks with special thanks to the one little boy who regularly puts his pennies in the container so the ducks won't go hungry during the winter months. It is Mr. Lilley who has been kind enough to feed these 17 ducks each day and has made up the difference that is needed to pay for the feed. A hearty thank you to him also.

Second Venture, the Norland group involved in recycling and crafts, is sponsoring a rug hooking workshop, to be held in the community hall for five consecutive weeks beginning on Wednesday, March 7 at 10:00 a.m. There will be two hour morning and afternoon sessions each Wednesday. Since only a limited number can be accommodated, please register early. Cost of the instruction will be divided among the members of the group (no less than a class of 10 to start). The instructor is qualified with the Ontario Hooking Craft Guild and has had many years of experience in this unique method of hooking. For registration and information call 454-8059 or 454-3233. If you are not interested in interested in rug hooking, the recycling group will also be meeting at same time in same place and invite you to join them. Bring your lunch.

Sympathy of the community is extended to the family of the late Arthur Hoskin who was a long time resident of Norland and more recently lived in Coboconk during the winter months with his sisters Hazel and Elsie. Mr. Hoskin passed away on February 12 and was buried from Bryant-Cameron Funeral Home on February 14.

Thursday, February 15 was ladies night at the Coboconk Lions Club meeting and the men prepared a delicious dinner and served it to their wives and honored guests, all of whom helped with Lions' activities during the past year. Our compliments to Everett Cameron, Mickie Ferenczy, and Fred Austin who were in charge of the preparation and catering for this special occasion. Constable Magee is one of 105 officers in Ontario who is trained to visit and talk to groups of school children and/or adults on safety topics and crime prevention. Following his talk and film, Constable Magee was thanked by Lion Paul Wooton and presented with a thank you gift for he and his wife. The tables were then cleared and dancing followed in the Lions Community Hall.

Art and Sue Major of Hamilton visited in the village recently.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Grant Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Haas who are new truck and car owners.

Mr. Jim Mack and Paul of St. Catharines are at their home in the village to do some ski-doing for a few days. It's nice to have you back Jim!

On holidays to do some ski-doing is Bob MacDonald of Bowmanville and staying with Mr. P. Welsh.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Wade are home for the weekend from Toronto.

Miss Sheila Stamp, Mr.

gathering dust? The Minden Figure Skating Club are looking for some for their finale, so if you have one you do not want now, be sure to let them know.

Did you know that "We are not judged by what we think we are capable of doing, but by what we actually have done."

Weekend guests with the Taylor Kernohan's were, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barkwell of Port Sydney, also Jerry Graham of Ferguson.

The T.V. was really good on Sunday evening. I enjoyed seeing London, England through the eyes of the Osbourne family, then 'saw the famous California Disneyland through the eyes of the Irish Rover. These are places I will never likely see, so I really enjoyed the programs. There is also a new series of Roots. Sunday evening was the first of seven programs so if you liked last year's then you will enjoy the next six. It is on Global at 9 p.m.

Next Sunday, February 25 a number of Minden Figure Skating Club members will be going to Lakefield to compete in an inter-club competition. Don't forget the card party at the Orange Hall next Monday evening, February 26, at 8 p.m.

I was up to the arena last Saturday for a while to watch the "Tim Harrison" Midget Tournament. It is such a shame that both Haliburton and Minden made it to the last games then lost out. I would like to have seen at least one of the trophies stay in the county. Still on hockey, the Juveniles came awake in the third period and got three unanswered goals to beat Oakwood 5-3 in Oakwood.

The third game is here tonight, but with a three out of five series we will likely and hopefully see a game back here on the weekend. Each team has one win now.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Beatrice Taylor had a very pleasant surprise. The Hugh Taylors and Beatrice had been invited to dinner at daughter Laura's in Lindsay. When they arrived her whole family, also Lily Hogg, were on hand to welcome her to a surprise birthday party.

Preliminary figure skating tests were held at the arena last Sunday afternoon. Those who passed were: Wama Blakey; Betty Jo Clayton; Tammy Short. For the Dutch Dance it was Tammy Short; the Canasta - Dianne Clayton; the Swing - Wama Blakey and Adele Wray.

If I have these wrong my apologies for it is all latin to me.

There will be a pancake supper at St. Paul's Parish Hall next Tuesday, February 27 from 5 to 7 p.m. This is not just pancakes, you will have a full meal, with pancakes for dessert, so do put it on your calendar.

It is a mistake to believe that shorter hours and less work will produce a higher standard of living.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle McKnight are holidaying in the Bahamas.

By the way, please do not try to watch the eclipse of the sun next Monday, February 26. The best way is to watch it on T.V.

We used to rub lamp black on our glasses when I was young, but who has lamp black now?

Adios and take care now.

Gathering honours

Louise Watson for service

A party was held at the home of Stan Moore and Ella Gillies last Saturday evening to honour Mrs. Louise Watson for over 11 years service as Secretary-Treasurer of the Stanhope Airport Committee. All the present committee members were present with their husbands or wives.

Although small in stature, Louise has been the backbone of the Airport Committee for many years, not only as a superb secretary, writing the many letters and filling in the many forms necessary with the M.O.T. before a fly-in can take place, but as a worker, picking up stones off the runway every spring, cutting grass, cleaning the airport building, and in the early days, arriving early at meetings and classes to light the fire.

Louise passed her ground school course and had several hours of in-flight instruction, and although she never obtained her Pilot's Licence, due to eye problems, she has never lost her love of flying and will eagerly climb aboard and soar aloft with her many pilot friends.

Derek and Pam Rolfe surprised her two years ago when they flew her to the Hamilton Air Show, the biggest in Ontario, because although Louise had worked very hard at every air show that Stanhope held, she was always too busy to watch the show she had planned, so it was a real treat to be able to enjoy the show without worries.

During the course of the evening, Chairman Brent Walker presented Louise with a gift of a model W.W.I airplane with a radio base and Vice-Chairman Stan Moore presented her with a steam curling iron from the members. Louise said she didn't feel she deserved to be honoured thus, as she only did what had to be done and had enjoyed every minute of it, and closed with the promise to give a helping hand if she was needed in the future.

The evening closed with lunch and coffee served by the hostess and although it was bitterly cold outside the atmosphere was warm and friendly inside.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

The World Day of Prayer is being held March 2. The service will be conducted at the Tory Hill United Church under the direction of the United Church ladies. The program begins at 2:30 p.m. Once again there was a good turnout for the box special held at the Legion Hall of Branch 624. Harry Clark proved to be a popular auctioneer and an enjoyable evening followed. Beginning February 23, weekly eucharist parties will take place at the Legion Hall.

There are six volunteer fire departments in Haliburton County. They consist of Haliburton, Minden, Stanhope, Glamorgan, Monmouth and Cardiff Townsite groups. These together with the Brimcroft Fire Department comprise the Haliburton County Mutual Fire Aid Association. The aim of the association is to unite forces and work together to render assistance to all areas beset by fire; to be always alert and on call to offer support to a neighbouring township. Once a month the members get together to learn about new methods of fire control. This month the host club was Stanhope. The guest speaker was Bernie Walsh who is a frequent representative of the fire marshal's office in Toronto. A qualified agent from the Fire Supplier Equipment Co. demonstrated better air packs and spoke of the use of different kinds of foam. About 60 members were present with six of these coming from Monmouth. Such good attendance points to continued interest in the subjects taught, especially when sub-zero temperatures that night made staying at home an attractive alternative.

Stanhope has earned a reputation for providing excellent meals at the conclusion of their meetings and all agreed that on this evening they lived up to expectations. Next month's meeting will be held in Monmouth on March 13. For many years the once busy grocery store of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson stood empty on the main street of Wilberforce, its boarded windows lending an air of neglect. Now this will all change. The property has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Waterton of Harcourt. They are busy renovating the place and planning a new business venture that will bring a new vitality to the old store. Sometime in April a take-out food store will begin operating. In preparation, the interior is being furnished with counters and shelves. Floor space is being studied for placement of necessary equipment. Windows and doors are being adjusted to provide the best service. Mr. Waterton praised the work of Keith Cameron who is designing much of the woodwork for a very smart effect. We wish the Watertons success with their new outlet. May their business prosper and grow.

Down the highway two by two come the school children. They are on their way to the arena for an hour of skating. Their brightly coloured toques, scarfs and mittens add a vivid contrast to the snowy street. They are all chattering in the carefree excitement of the moment. The attentive teachers lead, control the group at center and follow at the rear. Such a sight eases the monotony of a bleak February afternoon.

Dorset News

by Phyllis Briscoe

A quarrel is quickly settled when deserted by one party; there is no quarrel unless there be two.

We are happy to welcome home Bill and Isobel Avery who spent a period of time in Huntsville Hospital. The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of Arley Waloshuk (nee McKay) who passed away at Huntsville Hospital on February 14 after a prolonged illness. Arley was the daughter of Mrs. Marion Tyson. The funeral service was held at the Reynolds Funeral Chapel with Rev. J. K. Brahm officiating.

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Ellen Avery who celebrated a birthday on February 8. She was surprised with a pot luck supper provided by her family. There were 21 present which included daughter Ruth, her husband John McLennan and their two sons of Dorset; daughter Eleanor, her husband Russ Burton and their three children from Scarborough; son Graham, his wife Helen and their three children; brothers John and Norman and their wives, Eldred and Devina and her sister Kate McKay. A happy family get-together was enjoyed by all.

We all enjoy beautiful flowers, especially the unusual ones we nurture in the winter time. Mrs. Annie Anderson has been enjoying an unusual Amaryllis. It is an "Apple Blossom" and has had two flower stalks. The first had four huge blooms and the second one had six, five around and one on top, all excessive in size and of a delicate pink and white colour. Just thought we would share Mrs. Anderson's pleasure with others.

The Women's World Day of Prayer will be held in the Anglican Church on Friday, March 2 at 2 p.m. Everyone is welcome.

Carnarvon News

by Yvonne Penney

We have had some real mean temperatures this past week, apparently some record-breaking ones. Never mind, it's only another month until spring.

Anne and Man McKay left last week on their trip to Raymondville, Texas.

Don't forget "World Day of Prayer" is on Friday, March 2. We in Carnarvon will take part in the service at the Eagle Lake Community Church at 2 p.m. There is also a service at Hyland Crest in Minden at the same time of 2 p.m. Services will also be held in Haliburton. The service is concerned with spiritual growth and was prepared by students in the Pan-African Leadership Course for women at Mindolo Ecumenical Foundation in Zambia.

Last Thursday was a sell-out at the Beaver Theatre in Minden. The movie, sponsored by the Minden Brownies was called "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion". Too bad we can't have more family movies as the little ones enjoy getting out to a show.

Mary Doey leaves this week to spend three weeks in Blenheim looking after her mother, Mrs. Mallory.

Congratulations to Marilyn Kinsman who was chosen Haliburton Carnival Queen, also to Nicky Kinsman and Laura Letourneau who were chosen as her two princesses. There were a lot of people in town to take in the events of the carnival. One busy spot Saturday afternoon was the sale at the Guild of Fine Arts. We certainly have some talented people here in our area. Margaret Trudel and Christian spent last week here with her father, Norm Wallace.

An item which I neglected to report after Minden Carnival was that the Pine Shop won the trophy for the best decorated window.

Mabel Russell is home from a two week stay at Wellesley Hospital where she was undergoing tests. Good to see her home again.

World Day of Prayer

Six participating Haliburton Churches invite you to take part in the World Day of Prayer services planned for Friday, March 2. The theme of this year's services is: "Spiritual Growth". Written in Zambia, Africa, this same service will be used in 170 countries by many different languages and nationalities.

Miss Barbara Neidrauer will be the guest speaker at 10:00 a.m. at Extensicare and at 2:00 p.m. at St. George's Anglican Church. Mrs. Marilyn Stouffer will be the soloist at St. George's.

Miss Neidrauer returned home to Orillia two years ago after spending ten years as a missionary nurse in Zambia. She was on the staff of Chitamba Hospital in the north. After 1971 she was a teacher, then principal in charge of the nurses training school at Mongu, Western Province.

A special Youth Service is planned for 4:15 p.m. on March 2, also at St. George's. The Rev. Andy Leroux will speak informally and accompany some of the singing on his guitar. Rev. Leroux is a graduate of Ontario Bible College and Wycliffe College, Toronto. He is presently the assistant minister at St. David's Church, Orillia.

All men, women, and young people are invited to the service which is at the most convenient time for them. Babysitting will be provided at the 2:00 service. Join thousands around the world in prayer, worship and unity.

AS A CONSUMER IN ONTARIO YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO MAKE A COMPLAINT

To avoid problems, know the rules
before you close the deal.

Most consumer complaints can be remedied easily if the buyer and seller recognize each other's rights and responsibilities and use common sense.

HOW TO MAKE A COMPLAINT

Once you have decided that you have a legitimate complaint, here's how to go about making it:

- Explain your problem clearly and calmly to the sales clerk. If the sales clerk is unable to help you, see the manager.
- Still no satisfaction? Send a registered letter to the person in charge. Include in the letter your name, address and telephone number; the name and type of product purchased, date of purchase and price paid; an outline of your problem and your attempts to solve it; copies of receipts, work orders and any other documentation; and what you want the company to do about your problem.
- Negotiate. You may persuade the merchant to exchange your purchase or make alternate arrangements.
- The Business Practices Act

WHAT TO DO BEFORE YOU BUY

These simple guidelines will help you avoid many problems:

- Comparison shop. Look at prices, guarantees, service agreements in several stores.
- Check a company's reputation with your local Better Business Bureau.
- Ask about the store's policy on refunds and exchanges. You may not be entitled to them.

- Remember all contracts are binding. If you change your mind about a purchase or find a better price elsewhere, you are still bound by your signed agreement.
- Keep sales slips, cancelled cheques, contracts, copies of ads, bills and any other relevant information.

We certainly have been getting a very cold spell. I understand the weatherman says it is going to be colder still by this weekend.
Our poor little feathered friends must be finding it pretty hard when it is so cold. There sure are a great number of them at my feeders. It seems as fast as I fill the feeders, they have them empty again.

The Maple Lake U.C.W. will be holding a pot luck supper on Saturday, March 17 at the Maple Lake Church. Also they will be sponsoring some films after the meal. Bruce Cook has been sick for over a week. We hope he is soon feeling much better.
